

Do not share your current location!

Do not share the your location before your travel is over.
If you want to make sure that your data and devices are safe, you should follow this rule.

